Avast for telecom and mobile operators

We help your network reach its full potential, by delivering premium-tier mobile security your customers will love.

Selection of our partners

Avast is a trusted partner because we have over ten years of experience partnering with telecom companies, including all four major US carriers. In addition to mobile carriers, we protect hundreds of millions of individual subscribers, who rate us over 4.5 stars on Google Play. Year after year, third-party labs such as AV-Comparatives and AV-TEST award our software with the highest rankings.

Security apps: Multiple levels of value

With global security leader Avast providing online and offline protection to your customers, you will gain a competitive advantage, enhance customer loyalty and engagement, as well as increase your ARPU.
The growing importance of IoT protection

Top tier analyst companies predict that companies, consumers, and governments will have installed over 55 billion IoT devices worldwide by 2025, further increasing the importance of IoT protection. Because of this exponential growth, “Home security and safety will be the most significant paid service in 2021.”

---

Comprehensive security at every level, fully customized

- Complete online and offline protection for your customers.
- All-inclusive or a la carte, thanks to our “Building Block” architecture.
- Any functionality easily customized into a unique solution for you.

Seamless integration with full support

- We will work closely with your team to ensure the seamless implementation of our solutions, while maintaining the integrity of your brand and the highest quality standards.
- We support all of our locations around the world 24/7 and will continuously share our extensive knowledge with your back-end systems.

The growing importance of IoT protection

Top tier analyst companies predict that companies, consumers, and governments will have installed over 55 billion IoT devices worldwide by 2025, further increasing the importance of IoT protection. Because of this exponential growth, “Home security and safety will be the most significant paid service in 2021.”

See what Avast can do for your business and customers.

Visit avast.com/mno, or reach us directly at partners@avast.com.

---

2. Source: Gartner, Forecast Analysis: Internet of Things — Services, Worldwide, 2017 Update, Published Dec 28 2018